

Following are the instructions to create a Twitter account and sign up for Dominator’s half time bet bonanzas.

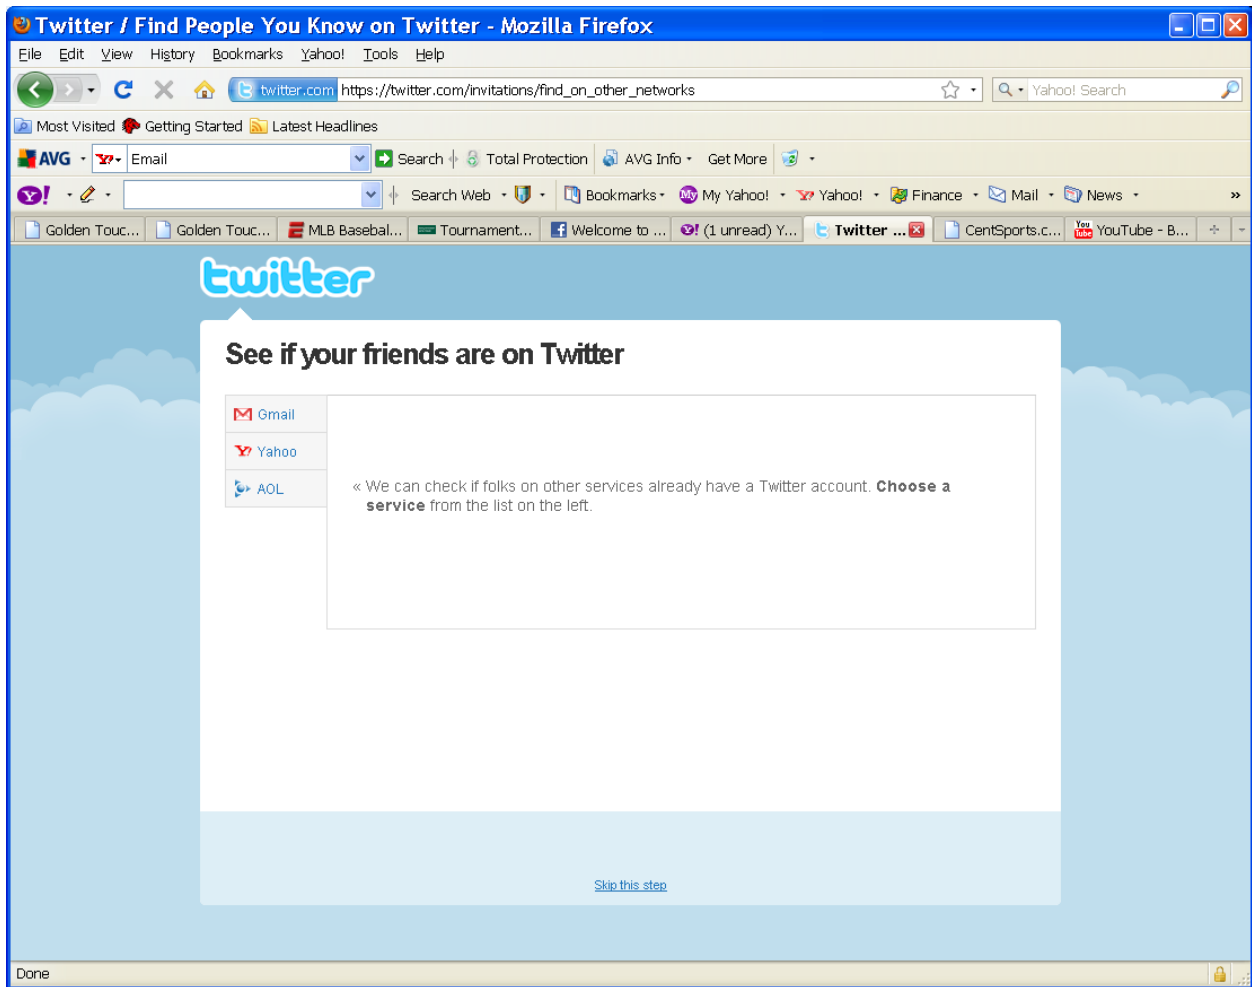

Go to <http://twitter.com/>

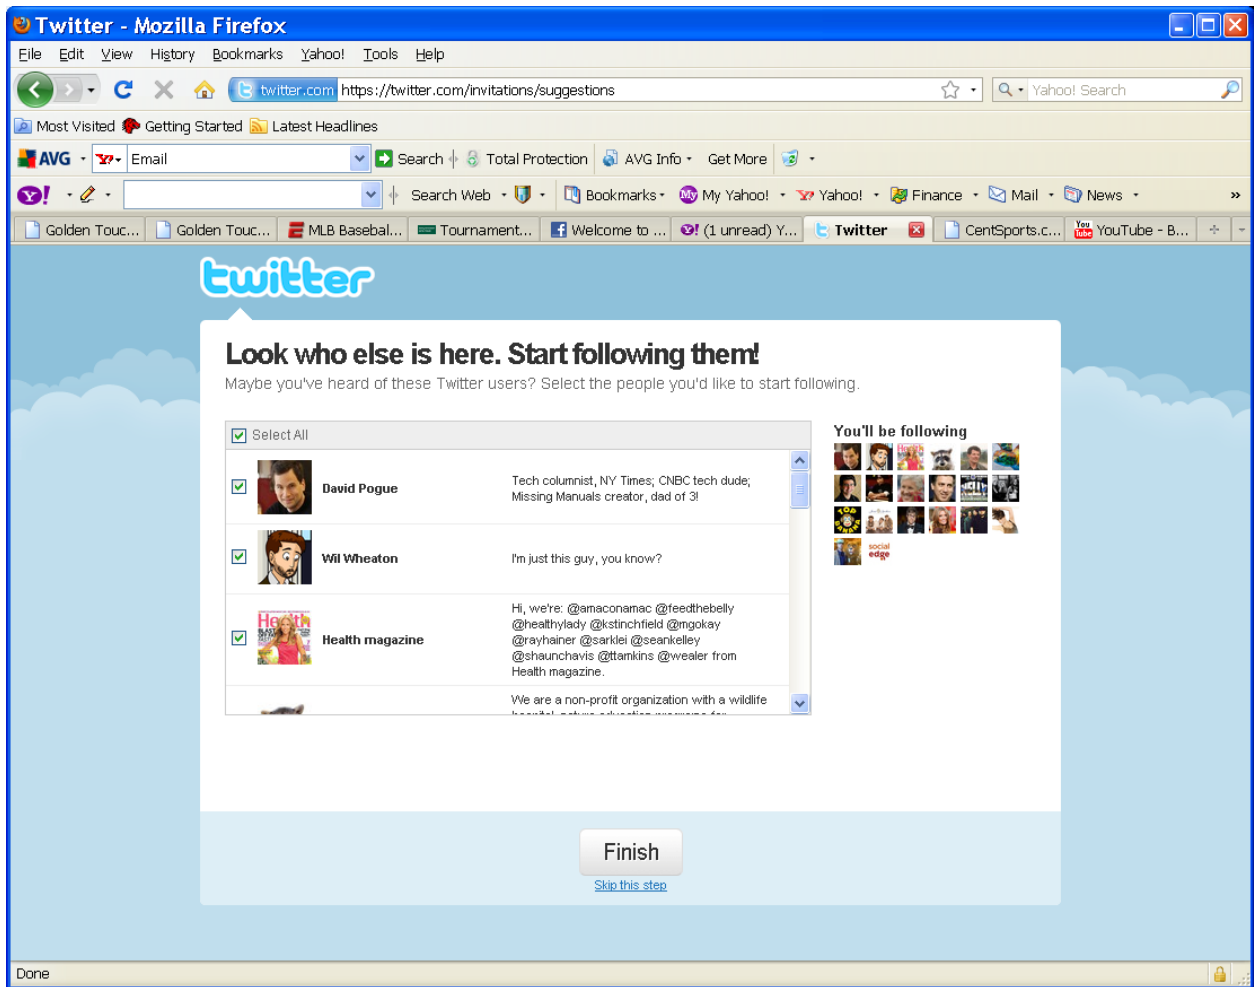

Click that bright, candy-like green “sign up now button” and it takes you here.

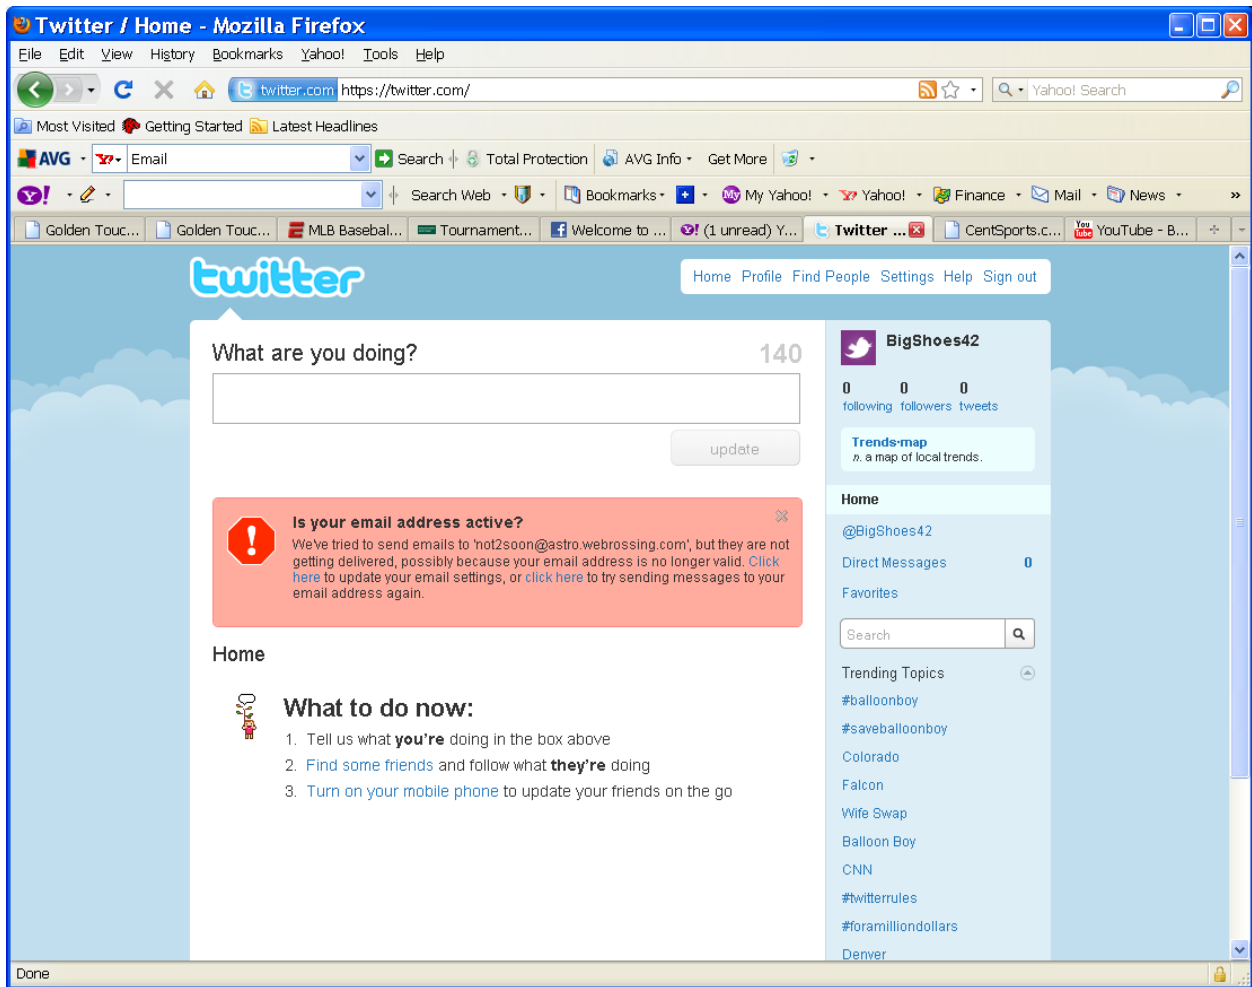

Fill all this out and click "Create my account" and then you are here

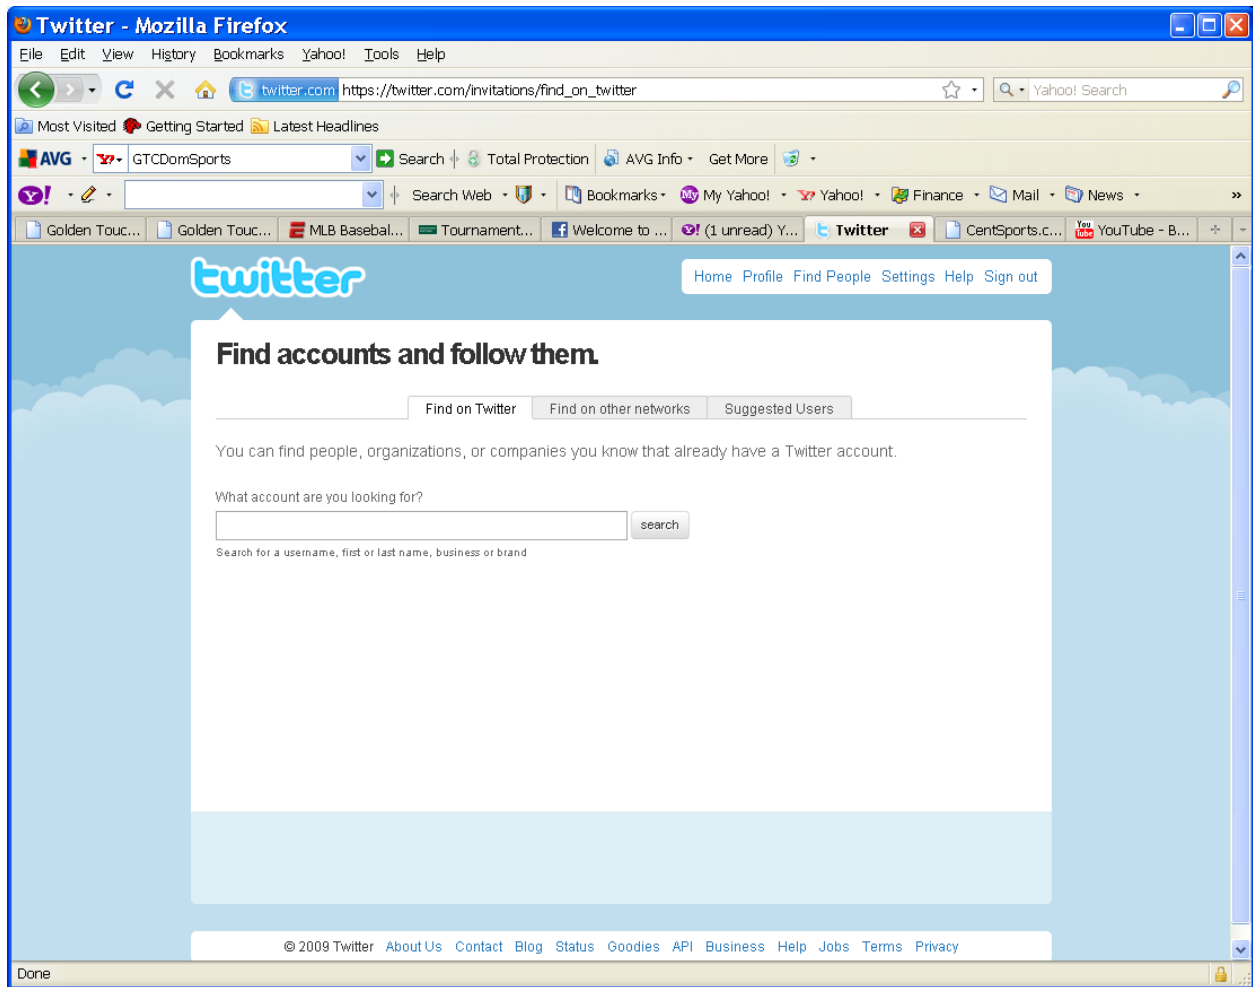

We recommend skipping this step by clicking the little “Skip this step” link at the bottom and go here

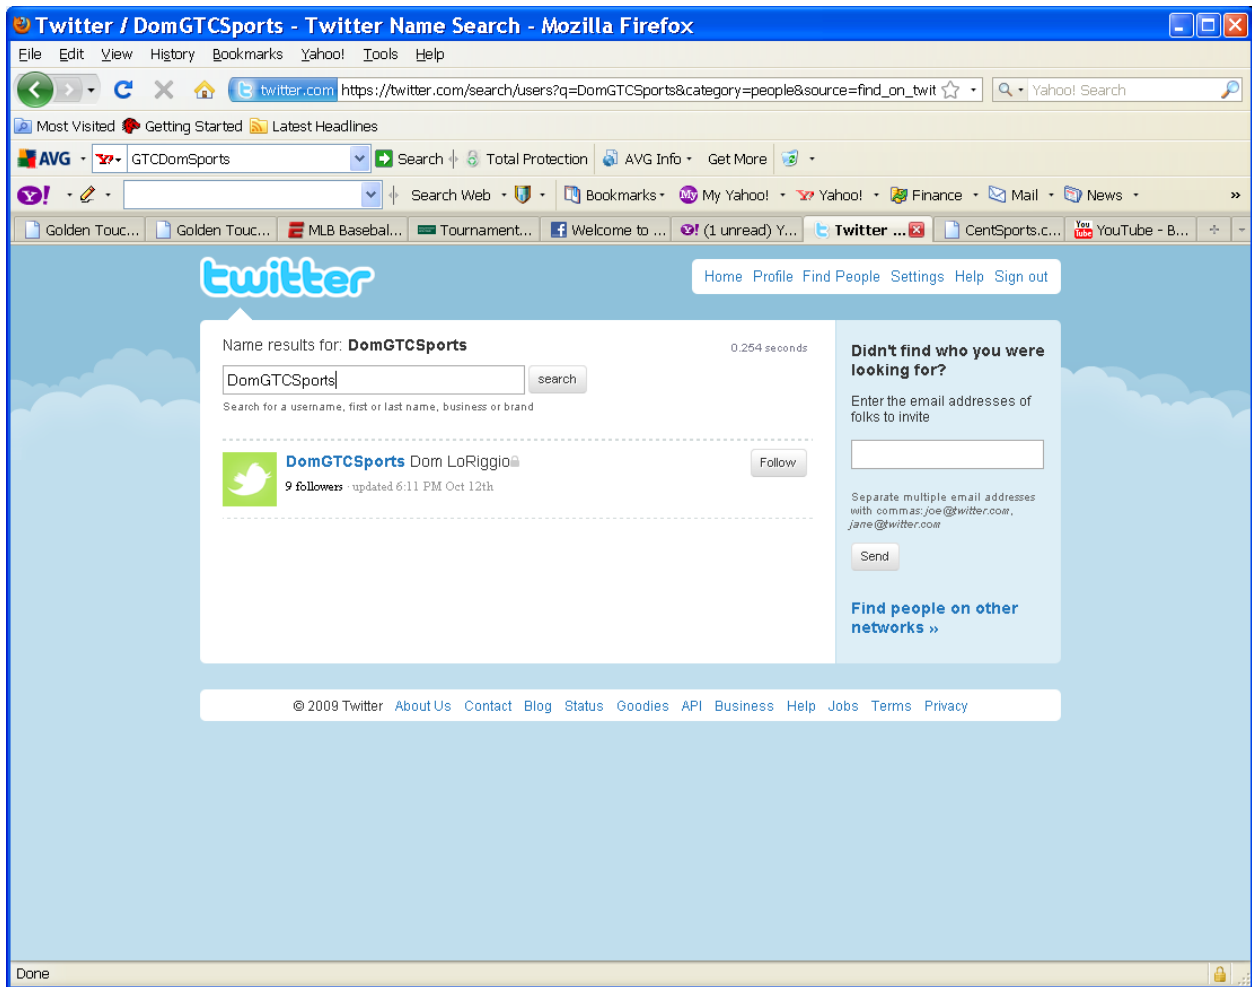

Skip this step the same way and end up here.

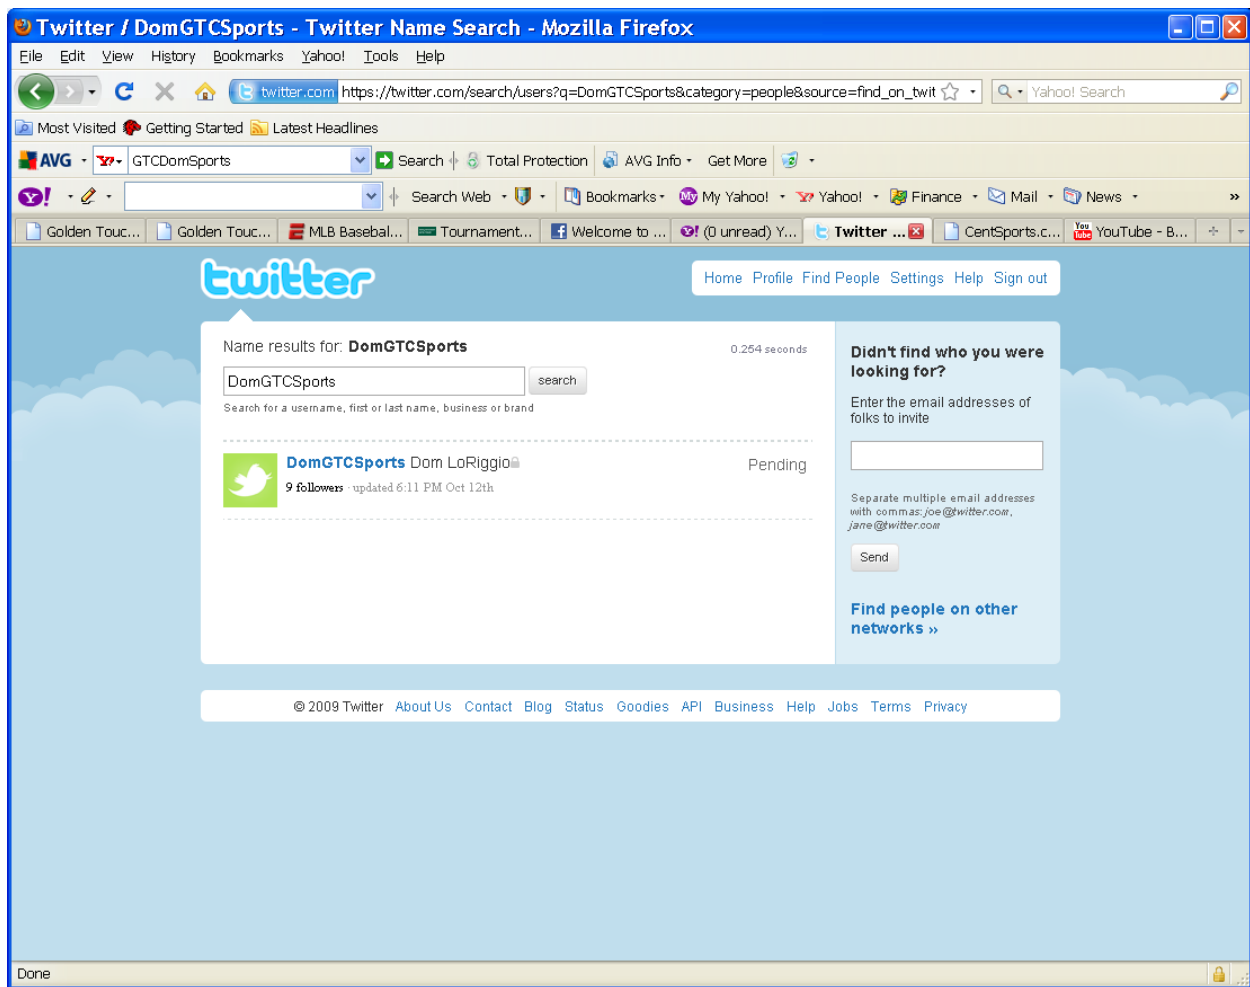

You will see a screen like this without the red box. I am using a dummy email to make this so it gave me an error. Now click on "Find People" at the top and go here.

Type in "DomGTCSports" and hit search. You should see this.

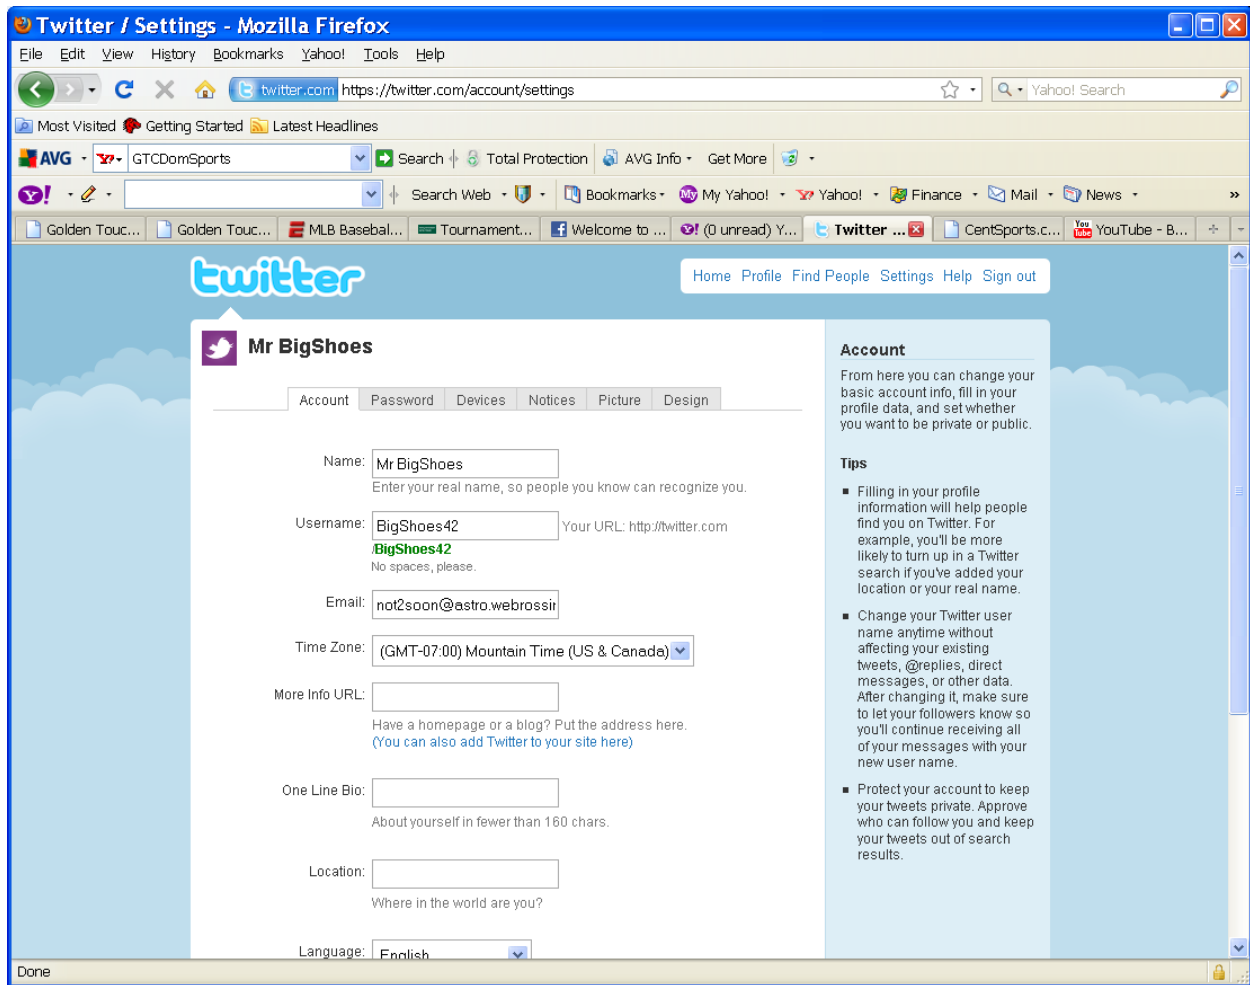

Now that we have found Dom's Service lets sign up to get tweets. Click on the "Follow" button and it takes you here.

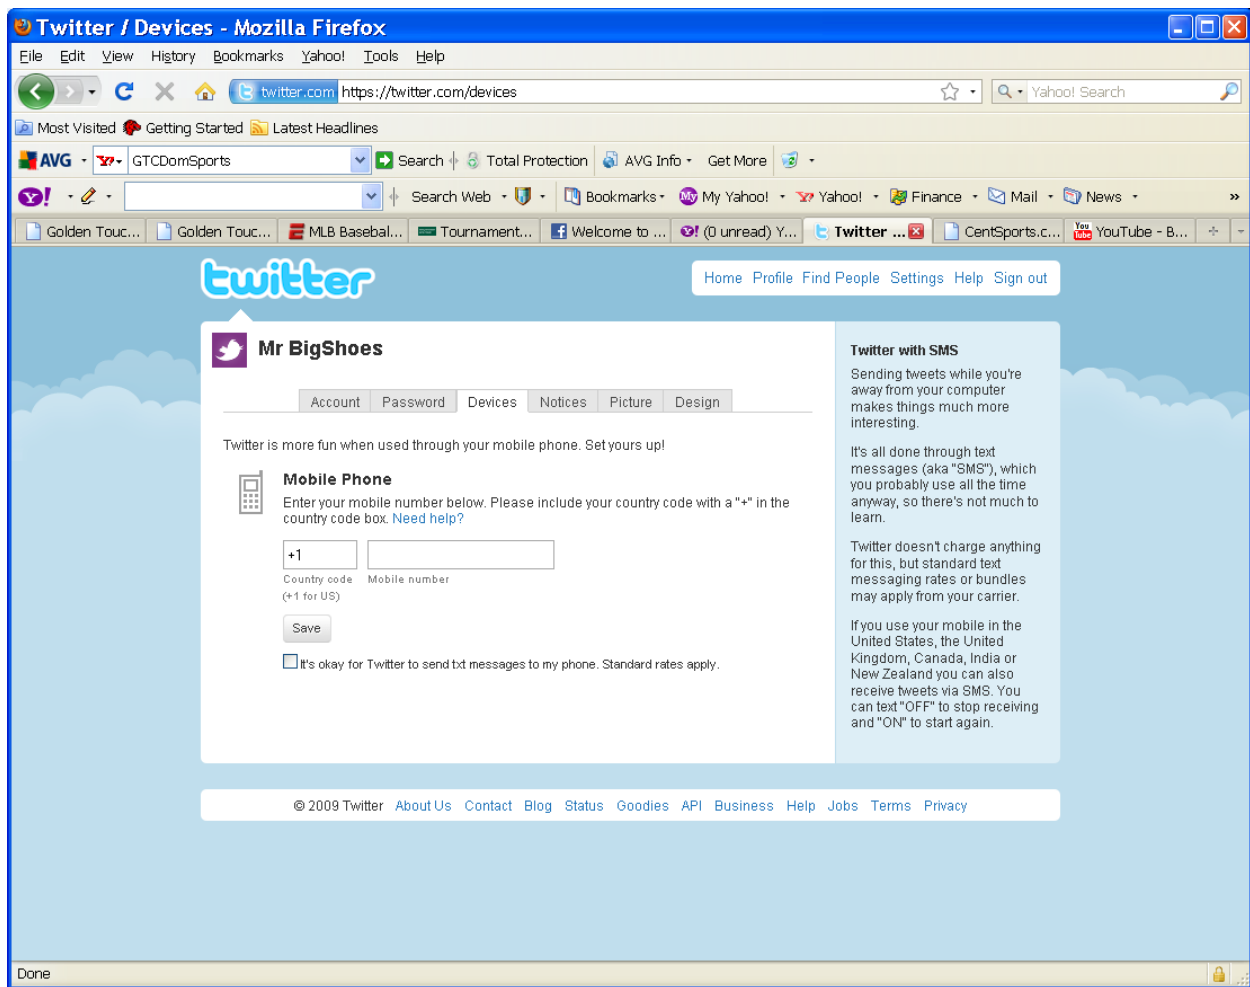

Notice that the button turned to pending. You will be notified when Dom has approved you.

While we wait let us set up our account to get the tweets on our phone so we get them right away. Click on the "Settings" link at the top of the screen and it will take you here.

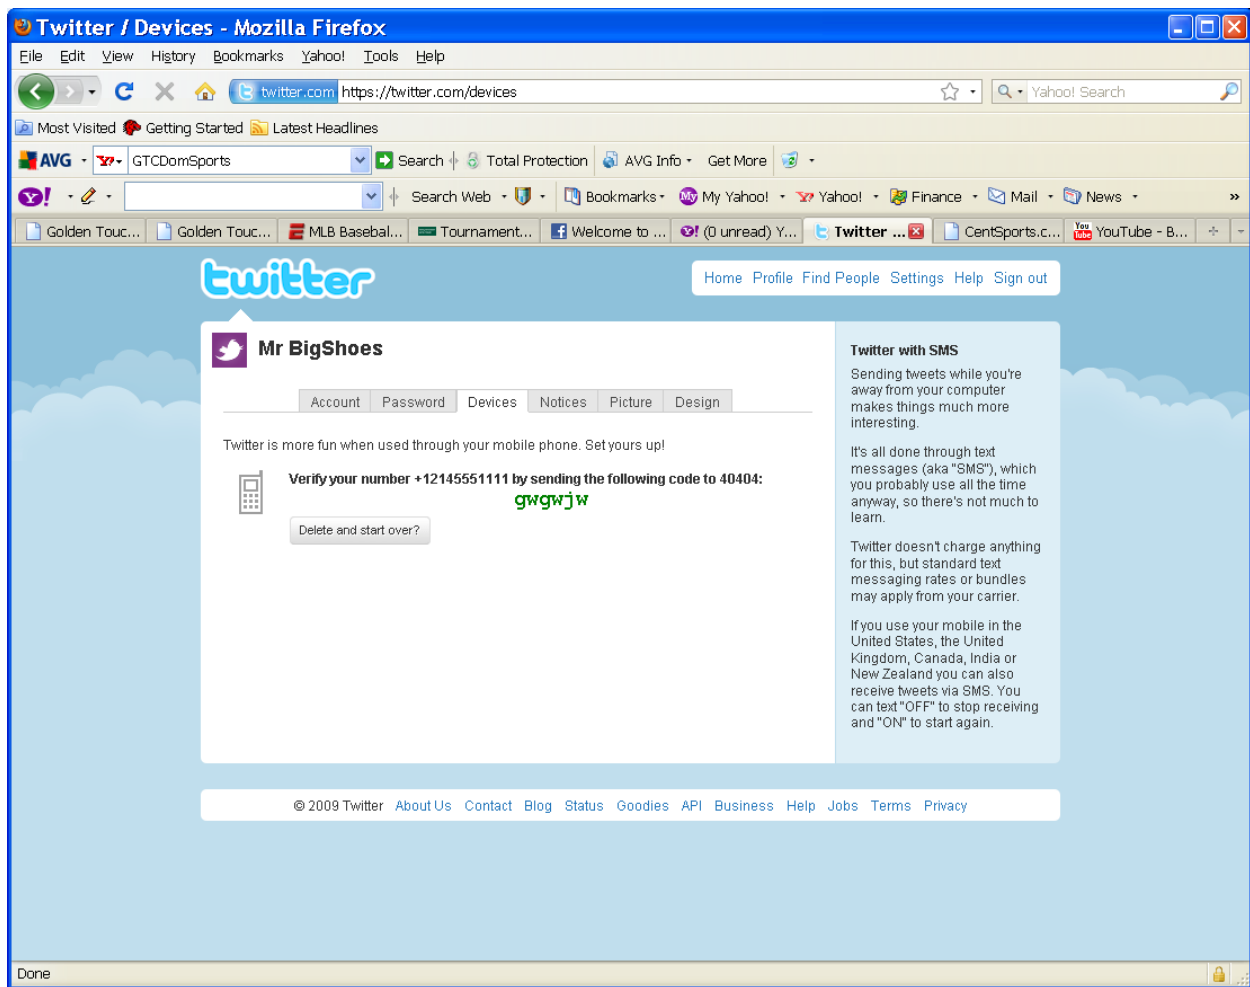

Now click the "Devices" tab to go here.

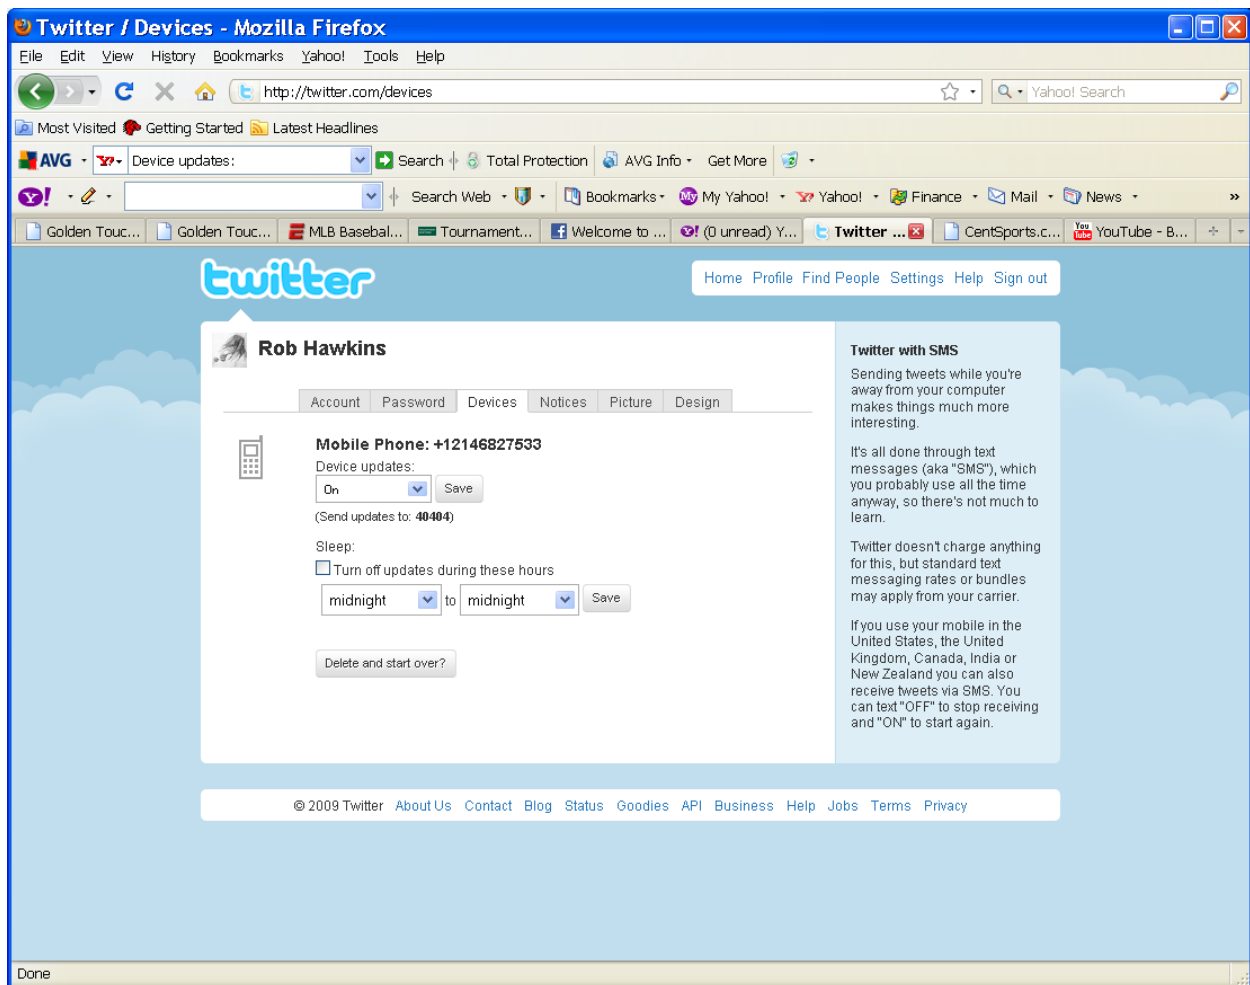

Now enter your mobile phone number and hit "Save." Make sure you also click the check box below the Save button too. You will then see a screen like this.

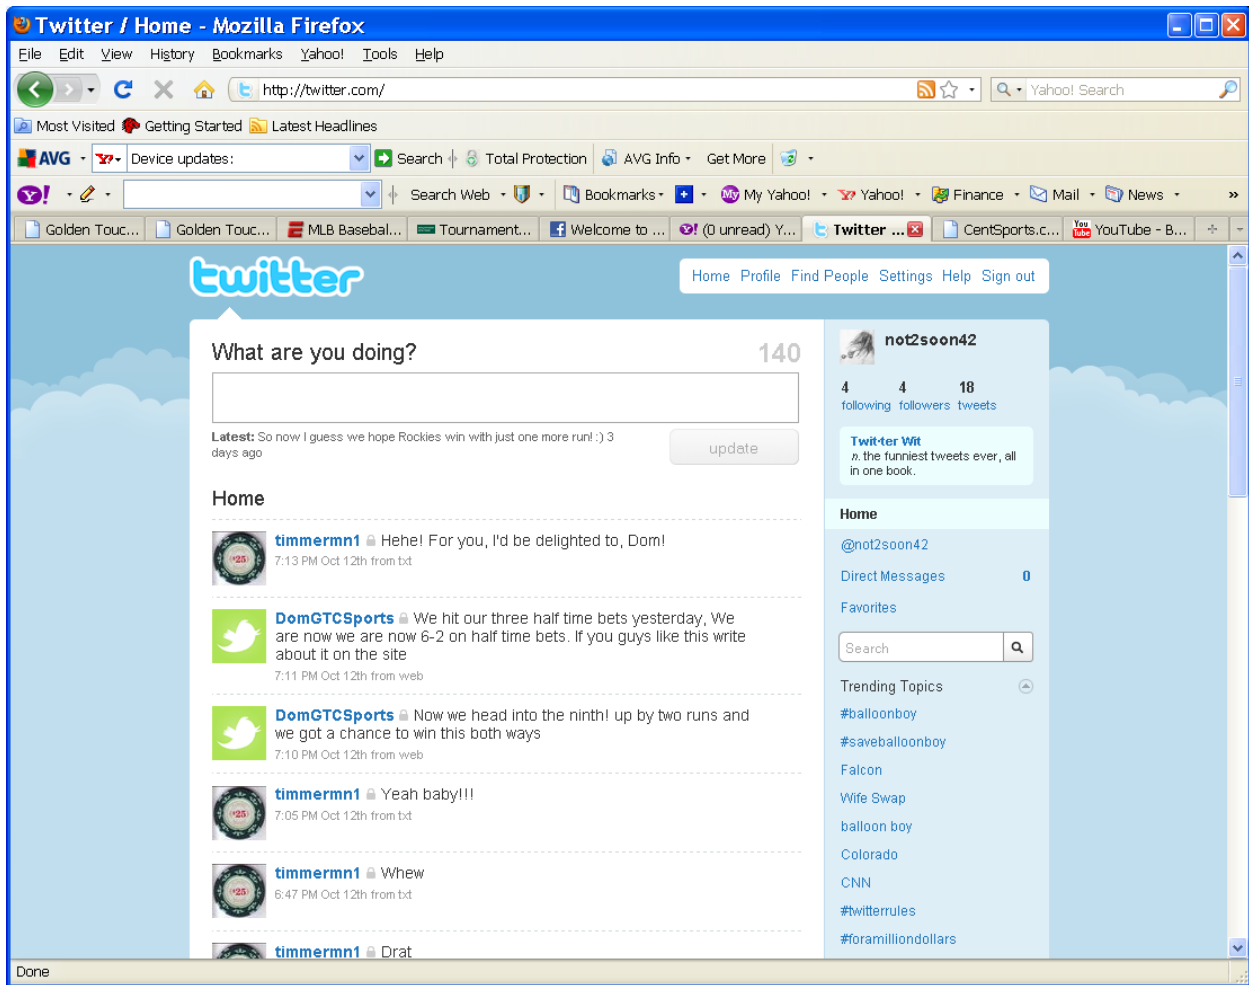

You now need to get your mobile phone and text the code in green to the number 40404. This allows Twitter to verify that you own the phone. After you do this then the phone will be tied to your account.

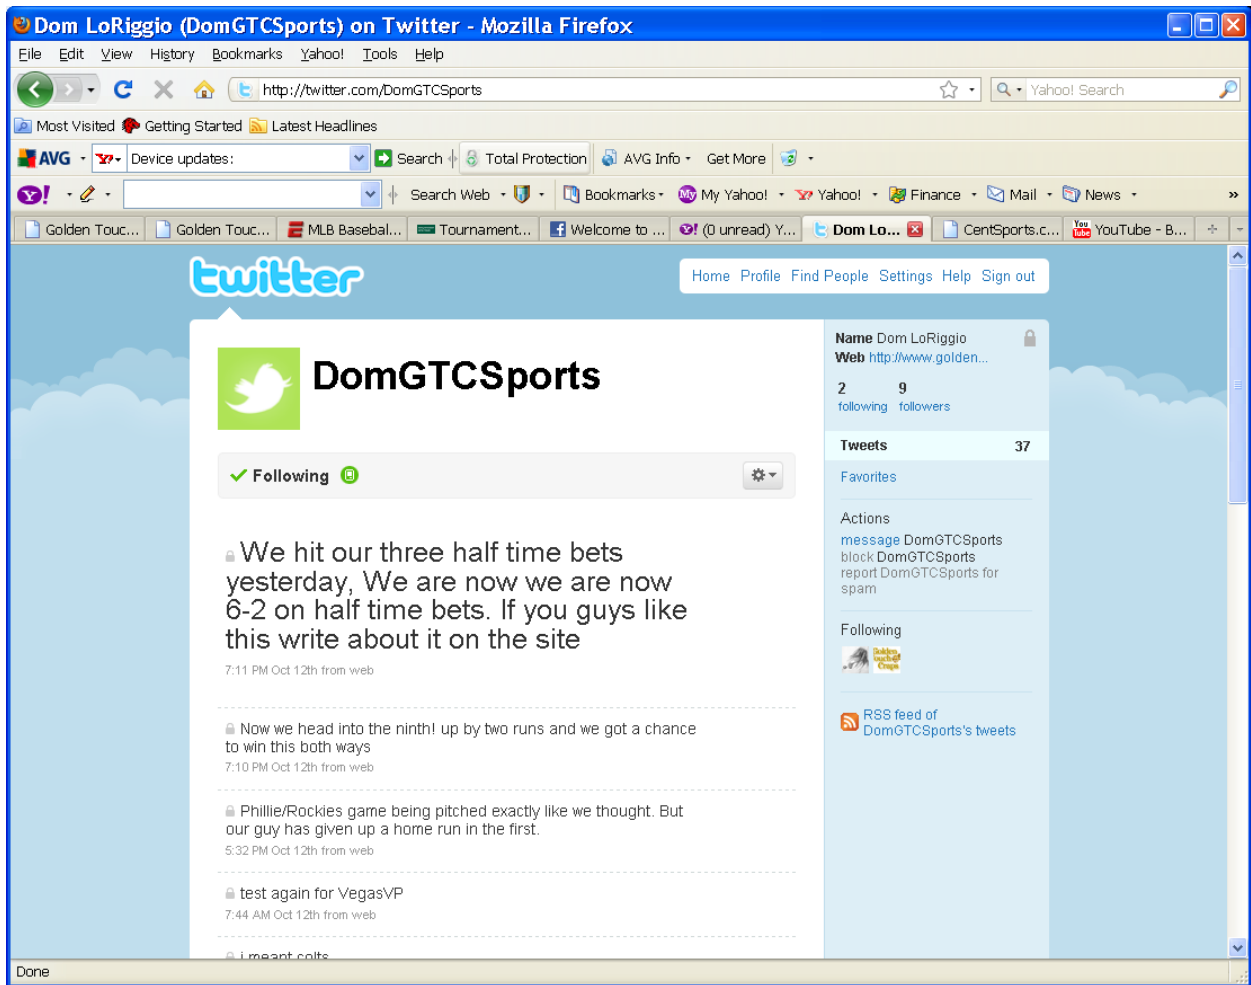

Now we can go back to this "Devices" tab and it should look like this.

Use the drop down to set "Device Updates" to on like it is above and hit save. You can also set a time window where you do not receive tweets to your phone. Now let us go back to our main page by hitting the "Home" link at the top. If Dom has accepted you then you will see DomGTCSports on your home page like it is below.

What you are seeing are tweets from DomGTCSports (and some others I have). Now if we click on one of the blue DomGTCSports links it takes us here.

On your page the little circle next to “Following” is probably grey. If you click on it and make it green then that means anytime Dom updates this tweet, the tweet will also be sent as a text message to the mobile phone you registered.

You should now get all the halftime tweets Dom makes on your cell phone.
